YOUR ROLE

As the Investigator you are responsible for finding additional information that may help your group better understand the chapters you read. Consider researching background information (e.g., author's background, history on the topic/theme/setting) and different perspectives or viewpoints that may not be shown.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION ✨

Author's background and personal experiences: Do their experiences impact the way the book is written?

DIFFERENT PERSPECTIVES

- Who is narrating these chapters? How might our perception change if another character (be specific on who) were narrating?

- What perspective or opinion is missing?
